AFFIDAVIT OF ERIC O'CONNOR

I, Eric O'Connor, of the City of Khartoum, Sudan, AFFIRM THAT:

1. I am Manager of Consular Affairs at the Canadian Embassy in Khartoum. I have held this position since July 29, 2007. The responsibilities of my position include, but are not limited to, managing the provision of consular services to Canadians in Sudan, providing direct consular assistance to Canadians when necessary, managing and leading the physical, financial and human resources of the Embassy, ensuring compliance with DFAIT policies and relevant Canadian laws, as well as coordinating the provision of information about the range of services provided by the Canadian government for the use of others. As a result of my position I have knowledge of the assistance provided to the applicant while in temporary safe haven at the Embassy in Khartoum from April 29, 2008 to the present.
2. The applicant has been permitted to reside at the Embassy in temporary safe haven since April 29, 2008. He has been provided with accommodation, telephone access, meals, recreational facilities and medical assistance in accordance with our consular mandate and the operational and security requirements of the Embassy. Attached as Exhibit A collectively are copies of consular case notes concerning the applicant's request for safe haven.

3. Given the unique circumstances surrounding the applicant's request for safe haven, consular officials undertook to clarify the relationship and expectations between the applicant and the Embassy in a document entitled "Terms of reference for Mr. Abdelrazik's stay within the Embassy grounds". This document outlines what facilities are available for use of the applicant, the times they are available, as well as the restrictions imposed by the Embassy due to operational and security requirements. Consular officials and Embassy staff have at all times attempted to adhere to these agreed-to terms of reference. Attached as Exhibit B is a copy of the terms of reference conveyed to both the applicant and his counsel.

Conditions of applicant's stay in the Embassy

4. At all times Embassy staff has done its best to ensure the applicant's comfort and well-being during his temporary safe haven at the Embassy. The applicant's allegation, contained in paragraph 58 of his affidavit, that he has been subject to inhumane treatment in the Embassy, is without foundation and completely untrue. Embassy staff members have done everything reasonably possible to ensure the applicant's well-being and have treated the applicant with the utmost professionalism, care and respect.

5. The Embassy in Khartoum is small and is not designed to accommodate residence by citizens receiving consular assistance. Within the confines of the limited space and the needs of an operational Embassy, staff have made facilities available for the applicant's comfort and convenience. For example, I arranged for a storage locker to be installed so that the applicant has a private space for his personal effects. I also arranged for a combination water dispenser/refrigerator to be available for the applicant's exclusive use. The applicant has access to existing amenities at the Embassy including, a swimming pool, exercise room, a television connected to satellite, a DVD player, and an AM/FM/CD stereo system.

6. To further ensure his comfort, I have also lent the applicant personal items including bed linens, a pillow and towels as well as a radio and books. I personally purchased a prayer rug at my own expense to lend the applicant.
7. The applicant has been allowed liberal use of the Embassy telephone. This has been granted as a special case to the applicant as the frequency of phone use requested by the applicant is not part of normal consular services. The applicant has been able to make/receive 10 calls per week using Embassy lines. The arrangements in place ensure the applicant has reasonable access at the same time as balancing the operational and security requirements of the Embassy.
8. In addition to use of the Embassy telephone, special arrangements have been made so that the applicant can use his cell phone in a manner consistent with operational and security requirements. It is the policy of the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) to prohibit cell phones in any Canadian embassy. This is because of the capacity of such devices to be used for electronic surveillance, imaging and eavesdropping. All visitors must therefore leave their cell phones and other electronic devices in the guard hut at the perimeter gate of the Embassy. The applicant is requested to inform me when he wishes to use his cell phone, and it is made available in the guard hut where a separate room is provided so that he can converse privately.
9. While at the Embassy, the applicant has had many visits from family members in Sudan. He is able to receive any visitors in the public areas of the Chancery during Embassy working hours. The Embassy has placed no restrictions on visits, and such visits are not limited to family members. The applicant's family has been permitted to bring small personal items for his personal use.

Sleeping arrangements

10. The applicant currently has access to a recreational area including an exercise room and a changing room to sleep in. This exercise room is enclosed, and air-conditioned. The changing room contains a standard toilet stall, shower and changing area that are available for the applicant's use. The exercise room is adjacent to the changing room and close to the pool.

11. For a bed, the applicant has been provided with a Department of National Defence (DND) military cot on loan from the DND contingent working with the United Nations operation in Sudan. I understand that this cot is used by Canadian Forces (CF) personnel on operations world-wide.

12. At times the applicant chooses to sleep on a cushioned pool lounge outdoors by the pool. These pool loungers are capable of lying flat, like a bed. Further, sleeping outdoors (often on rooftops) is common in Sudan during the hot season. When he first entered safe haven at the Embassy the applicant expressed satisfaction with sleeping on the cushioned pool loungers. When the applicant notified Embassy staff that this arrangement was causing a sore back, the Embassy obtained the cot for his use the next business day. This was not done in response to matters raised in Parliament as alleged by the applicant.

13. Embassy staff has always responded to all reasonable requests in this regard promptly. The applicant has never been directed nor has it been suggested that he should sleep on the floor. If he has done so it has been on his own initiative. In response to the allegation in paragraph 58(a) of the applicant's affidavit, it has never been suggested by Embassy staff that the applicant sleep in the bathroom.

Arrangements during Embassy working hours

14. Given the operational needs of the Embassy, the applicant was originally asked to remain in the public areas, namely the reception area and the lawn between the lobby entrance and the guardhouse of the compound during working hours. As the Embassy has adjusted to the presence of the applicant, he has been given increased freedom of movement within both the public and private areas of the Embassy grounds.

15. Currently, in an average day, the applicant spends 4 to 5 hours in the public areas, which allows the exercise room, changing room, and pool area to be cleaned and maintained, as well as providing time for Embassy staff to use these facilities. The applicant often remains in, or returns to, the exercise and changing rooms to, among other things, pray, listen to the radio, wash clothes, use the washroom, or read throughout the day. Mission staff have provided a table and chair in a shady portion of the public area for the comfort of the applicant during the Embassy's office hours.

Meals provided to the applicant

16. The applicant has been served three balanced meals every day since his arrival at the Embassy. In keeping with Sudanese custom, he has been given the first meal of the day at 11:00 hours and lunch at 16:00 hours. Because the Embassy is closed at Sudanese supper time, he has been given his third meal of the day together with the second at 16:00 hours to save and consume when he chooses. On weekends, when consular staff is not on duty, the Embassy guards purchase and deliver food to the applicant.

17. Embassy staff has made considerable efforts to serve the applicant food of his liking. Food is purchased for the applicant from a local restaurant and brought back to the Embassy. Attached as Exhibit C is a copy of a log of all meals provided to the applicant until the end of August 2008.

18. Contrary to the applicant's allegation contained in paragraph 58 of his affidavit he has not been given solely rice. References to rice include rice dishes other than plain white rice such as vegetable rice. Such rice dishes are Sudanese staples. Furthermore, rice is one of the foods the applicant specifically requested that we provide to him. Soon after the applicant entered safe haven, Embassy staff asked him to provide them with a list of his food preferences. To the extent possible, meals purchased for the applicant have been consistent with this list. Attached as Exhibit D is a copy of the list of preferred foods that the applicant provided to Embassy staff and a translation of that list. On the applicant's special request he has been served pizza upon occasion. In addition to the three meals a day provided, the applicant has been able to enjoy fruit from the fruit trees in the Embassy compound.

Medical assistance provided to the applicant

19. The applicant has been informed that if he requires medical attention he may request a doctor. Contrary to the allegation contained in paragraph 58 of the applicant's affidavit, Embassy staff have promptly arranged for medical specialists and medication to be provided on each occasion that it has been requested. The applicant has been provided the services of both a doctor and dentist on the same day that he requested it. Steps have also been taken to arrange for a visit by a psychologist. We have purchased prescribed medications for the applicant on numerous occasions. Attached as Exhibit E are copies of the receipts for medical and dental care and as Exhibit F are copies of consular case notes regarding the arrangements made by the Embassy to secure medical assistance for the applicant.

20. Based on the foregoing, while in temporary safe haven in the Embassy the applicant has been treated in a respectful, professional and fair manner.

Apr 29

Abdelrazik presented himself as scheduled on April 29 at appx. 1045hrs. He had contacted me the previous day to inform me that he had something to send to his lawyers in Canada.

As the conference room was being used and there were other people in the reception area, we stepped outside to talk. I raised the fact that his allegations of torture were now made public in news articles in the Canadian press and his concerns that he would be in danger if this information was released, and asked him to call me if he was indeed threatened or in danger.

He then stated that he did not want to leave the embassy as he felt he was in danger and he presented me with his lawyer's letter. I quickly read it and asked him about the sentence in paragraph 2, "...further to granting an interview with a Canadian journalist, he was intercepted and threatened by Sudanese security services". He stated that this happened a long time ago. I then let him know that we are not equipped to house someone, but that I would speak with Ottawa. He asked to use the embassy phone to call his lawyers, and I declined. I let him know that I would be in contact with Ottawa in the morning Ottawa time, and that he could remain in the waiting area until then.

His lawyers contacted the Embassy at appx 1500hrs to speak with him. I asked them to call back in 10 minutes so that I could speak with Abdelrazik. I told Abdelrazik that the only place that he could speak to his lawyer was in the reception area, with no guarantee of privacy. He then asked if he could speak to his lawyer on his cel phone. I agreed and let him bring his cel phone into the embassy. He did speak with his lawyer.

I spoke to Abdelrazik about the arrangement for the upcoming temporary period that he will be provided safe haven at the embassy.

I asked him to be mindful and respectful of the fact that we will continue to carry out our regular operations during this period. I asked that he be respectful to our clients, our staff, and our premises. He has never been problematic, but I wanted to be sure that this was raised at the beginning of this arrangement.

As per previous note, we will be providing food twice a day as per local customs (meals usually held at 1100, 1600, and 2200hrs). At 1600hrs, we will be giving him the equivalent of two meals. He has access to a water dispenser during the day, and has also been provided bottled water. We have provided hygienic supplies (soap, razor, toothbrush, toothpaste), towel, sheet, and reading material. He has access to showers and toilet facilities. We do have a swimming pool on the chancery grounds, and I have asked him not to use it for safety reasons.

He asked for tea during the day, and I informed that I will not be asking staff to make him tea. We will be carrying out our normal tasks during the day. I did inform staff though that if they wanted to share tea with him, then they were free to do so. Abdelrazik has a cordial relationship with staff, and I believe that he will benefit from this on occasion.

I have asked that he sit in the reception area during the day so as not to hinder the daily cleaning and gardening work done around the chancery. He is free to stroll outside to stretch in the area that the public has access to (along the sidewalk between the guard hut and the entrance to the chancery). Due to the regular daily temperatures outdoors (+40 C) I do not believe that this will be an issue.

He spoke to his legal counsel for appx 30 minutes in the late afternoon using embassy phone lines. He also made two calls to his family for a total of appx 40 minutes.

Terms of reference for Mr Abdelrazik's stay within the Embassy grounds

During the time that the Embassy of Khartoum (Embassy) provides temporary safe haven for Mr Abousfian Abdelrazik (client), the following terms and conditions apply to Mr Abdelrazik's presence within the Embassy compound, which consists of the Embassy building, outbuildings and grounds. The Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) reserves the right to determine the conditions and the length of time of Mr. Abdelrazik's temporary stay within the Embassy and anywhere within the compound.

These Terms of Reference are consistent with the requirements of Mr Abdelrazik's security and humanitarian needs, as well as with security protocols and practice at Canadian missions abroad, including with respect to the provision of temporary safe haven, and the constraints placed upon Canada pursuant to the listing of the client under United Nations Security Council Resolution 1267.

1. Access to Embassy and non _secure areas:

The client will have access to the public areas of the Embassy building during the working hours of the Embassy only. After hours the client will remain outside the Embassy building but within the compound in areas identified as accessible to him. Should the client wish to access Embassy recreational areas and equipment, including the pool, he will be required to agree to and sign a liability waiver.

Should, at any time, his behaviour be deemed disruptive towards other clients, or considered by the Head of Mission in his sole discretion as affecting the security of the Embassy or its staff, DFAIT may terminate his access to the Embassy compound.

2. Access to Operational areas.

The client will not be allowed in the Operational Area of the Embassy building.

3. Access to Embassy phones and phone lines

DFAIT will arrange for the client to receive or to make up to two calls per day to either his family or his legal representative in Canada between the Khartoum local time of 15:00 to 16:00 on work days.

Calls must be completed no later than 16:00 on days that the Embassy is operational.

These calls will be made to and from the reception area of the Embassy building only.

On weekends, holidays and other days when the Embassy is closed, there will be no access to Embassy phone lines.

4. Usage of wireless devices within the Embassy Compound:

Wireless communications are prohibited within the Embassy compound. Therefore, the client must leave any cellular phone or other wireless device with the security guards while the client remains in the Embassy compound.

The client may use his cellular phone from the confines of the guard house.

5. Security of calls made over commercial lines

DFAIT cannot guarantee the security of external calls to or from the Embassy made over commercial lines.

DFAIT adheres strictly to all Canadian privacy legislation and therefore does not record or monitor any conversations that take place on their premises, including the Canadian Embassy in Khartoum.

Every effort is made to allow the client privacy while the client is speaking on the phone in the public areas of the embassy, subject to the needs of other embassy clients.

6. Personal space for prayers

The client may use the same facilities provided for Embassy security guards and contractors for prayers.

7. Access to internet and other Canadian news

There is no internet access available in the public areas of the Embassy building and therefore the client does not have access to the internet.

Canadian newspapers and periodicals received from DFAIT in Ottawa will be circulated to the client.

8. Meals

The client will be provided with 3 meals a day.

9. Medical Care

Should there arise any concern with respect to medical care, the Embassy will seek professional medical attention and determine the best course of action upon such professional advice.

10. Any other eventuality

The Head of Mission in Khartoum has the authority to make decisions which he deems are in the best interests of the client, the staff and other clients of the Embassy and to protect and respect the diplomatic rights and privileges accorded to the mission by the Government of Sudan.

Any issues not addressed in these Terms of Reference must be referred to the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade for detailed instructions.

Jarabawone

A Commr. & etc.

I spoke with Abdelrazik this morning after he asked staff for a copy of the Globe and Mail coverage of his case.

I informed him that a request had been received by his lawyer with respect to various goods and services that should be provided to him. I let him know that decisions would be made in consultation with Ottawa. I did let him know that if he lacks anything, that he should let me know and I will see what I can do to provide.

He responded that he regretted making these requests via his lawyer. He noted a change in the usual quick response that he usually receives from me. I informed him that: his case was significant and was being dealt with at senior levels of the department; that this being the case, I must consult with my colleagues from HQ for guidance and instruction; and due to regional time differences (+7 hours), this would unfortunately take time.

I spoke with him about handling his monthly stipend. With his signed agreement, we have drawn his monthly financial assistance of $100 and we will be holding these funds on his behalf, making purchases on his behalf. We will attempt to stretch these funds as far as we can.

I spoke with him about his health. He had a prescription for several medications in his pocket. Only one item was outstanding; the others he had already purchased himself. We purchased the outstanding item on his behalf, as well as purchasing a non-prescription drug that he takes with each meal. The cost of these meds was 15 SDG- taken from monthly stipend. His stomach seems not to be seriously aggravating him, but it still is problematic.

Hind spoke to him about the provision of meals over the weekend. We will be using the embassy guards to purchase meals from a local provider currently used by embassy staff and guards. He has no issues with this. I also brought up the brother that he has here in Khartoum. I let him know that standard consular service usually supports the primary assistance provided by the family. He said that his family should be able to provide assistance. I did not follow up, but will speak with CNO about what we should do to involve them, possibly providing him with meals on weekends. This would help stretch his monthly stipend.

Hind noted that he was somewhat tense today. He does have a fair amount of stress to cope with, but he has not shown any signs of aggression. I have asked her to monitor his stress levels and report to me any signs that he may be agitated/aggravated.

I gave subject a copy of the letter from his counsel to DFAIT dated 30 Apr, 2008.

Subject was able to speak by phone with his counsel, and local family member. A chair has been placed in the vicinity of the public phone to better accommodate his use of the phone.

We are trying to accommodate his presence as well as possible. I have asked him to let me know if he needed anything, and let him know how to reach me outside of office hours. Noting that the waiting area was particularly cold this afternoon, I showed him how to adjust the temperature of the air conditioning units. I have also lent him a small carpet on which to pray.

Sujet : May 25- request to see physician

May 25

In the morning, A indicated that he was sore all over, had a headache, and sore stomach. He thought that he had malaria, and asked to see an MD. Hind asked him if it was ok to be examined by a female physician- he had no issues with it.

We contacted Dr. Asma I. El Soni, who is the embassy's primary medical consultant for CBS and other medical issues.

Dr. El Soni came to the embassy in the afternoon (to ensure that her visit coincided with the opening of medical labs in the afternoon- from 1430hrs onward). She examined A in the men's changing room (with cot where he could properly be examined lying down).

Consular assistant informed me that the exam was over and indicated that MD mentioned that A had hypo-tension and that she was surprised that he was standing.

HOM and MCO discussed A's health with Dr. El Soni to assess requirements.

Dr. El Soni stated that A was reluctant to share info, and seemed to be depressed. She stated that: he had hypo-tension (100/60) and recommended that he drink more fluids; had asthma and should be using his inhaler regularly in the morning and afternoon; his heart was OK; liver OK.

She stated that A was very worried about hepatitis, as two of his brothers have had hepatitis, but she did not believe that this was a problem as the colour of his urine did not indicate such. He did not seem to take her recommendation to drink more liquids too seriously, stating that he drinks enough water, nor her recommendations on using the inhaler twice a day, as he indicated that he used it only when he felt short of breath. She took blood, stool, and urine samples, and left a prescription for meds (ceprofloxin-500mg-1x3 for 1 week) to clear his intestines/ bowels.

I asked her about his stomach, and she said that it was fine, noting some tenderness in one quadrant. I asked her about the medication that he was taking with each meal, and she stated that he did not mention it to her.

She will get back to us with the results from the labs.

I spoke with A at day's end and asked if he wanted this medication. He responded affirmatively.

I gave A his breakfast this morning and the medicine prescribed by the Doctor for him, I showed him a copy of the Doctor prescription and an invoice by the cost off he medicine .I also showed him how to take his medicine according to the prescription one tablet three times daily after the meals,he asked me if we had received his medical result form the Lab rotary,I told him not yet and we are waiting for the doctor to provide us with the result,he said explaining that he woke up this morning with a sever ache in his body and he is feeling fatigue .I told him we will wait for the result and inform him.

I told him that the Doctor had recommended that he should drink more water,he said that he do drink water and he added that he completes the water in his dispenser in two or three days (The water Dispensary is containing 19 LTR of water),I told him that the Doctor had also mentioned that he has to drink soup,I asked if he would like to provide him with soup he said that is a necessity,I repeated if he wants soup or not because he wrote down in the list of the food that affect him is the Lentil soup,he answered yes he wants to provide him with soup he then added that is not to bring the soup as a main dish,I told him of course it will not be his only meal.

Tooth Pain

Sunday 1st June

When I gave A his meal in the morning he complained that he had a pain in his tooth and that there is change in the smell of his breath, he informed me that he needs to see a Doctor, I replied okay.

I called the dentist mentioned in the Embassy's list of Doctors, the Dentist asked me over my cell phone for the kind of complain from the patient, I explained to him that A had informed me that he had a root canal treatment in Canada on the year 2000, and he felt this morning a swollen in his mouth and a change in the smell in his breath, the dentist asked me over the telephone to speak with A, I asked the Dentist to come over to examine A, he replied that he has to see first the type of complaint, I gave A my cell phone and A spoke with the Dentist and explained to him his complaint, I spoke with the Dentist after that asking for his recommendation and asking him to come over and see A, the dentist replied that as from the complaint he indicated that there is infection in the tooth due to fracture up the tooth due to that there is apian related to the infection, the dentist prescribed an Antibiotic to relief the infection and analgesia for the pain, I asked the dentist again to come over and examine A, he answered that there is no use for him to come over and that the patient should take the tablets he prescribed and he added that A has to wait for a few days to see what will occur after taking the medication.

I told A that the Dentist had prescribed an Antibiotic tablet for the time being and if he wants us to purchase it and that he has to wait for the result after taking the medicine, he said that he needs a Dentist to come and examine him and he wants me to call another dentist.

I called a second Dentist in the same day and explained to him briefly about the case, the second Dentist told me that he will check his appointments and will confirm if he will be able to come at noon. I told A that another Dentist will come over later but not yet confirmed because he has a clinic and appointments with other patients and he can't immediately come in a short notice, he replied in a nervous tone that he would like me to ask a third Dentist if the dentist is not able to come (Note that A is always developing an anger attitude if we don't satisfy his needs) although I explained to him that the dentist said that he has commitment to his clinic and other patient, A said that he could develop a cancer because of his tooth and he is worried because there is a change in his breath smell. A asked if we have our own list of Doctors- I answered yes, he said he has his relative which is a very reliable and respected Dentist, I replied that the Dentist had already been informed to come and he agreed after rearranging his schedule.

I called the Dentist in the same day, he confirmed that he will come, the Dentist was late for the time he decided, A kept on asking about when the Dentist is coming?. The Dentist came in the same day and examined A in the Exercise room, I waited outside the room for there privacy, when the Dentist came out he indicated that there is a sever decade (the Dentist report is attached), he added that he will manage to bring a special chair and a lamp later and put it in the Embassy for him so he could take out A's tooth, the Dentist brought an Antibiotic along with him and gave it to A and he said that he will wait for a few days to see what will develop. The dentist decided to come over on Thursday morning to take out A's tooth.

June 16- Tooth extraction

June 16

A's dentist visited to extract A's tooth. A's mouth was inflamed and he was favouring that side of his face. I spoke with the dentist afterwards to discuss post-extraction follow-up. Meds have been prescribed and purchased. The dentist increased his price over two-fold (from 200SDG to 450SDG) but after discussing this with him, he agreed to charge 250SDG, as he stated that the work was more difficult than anticipated.

On 11 June, 2008, A asked our property manager if mission could build him a bed using scrap pieces of metal welded together in the shape of a bed by a contractor currently on site.
The property manager informed A that he should speak with consul on this topic.

A had a visit from his Cousin who brought him sneakers (Tennis Shoes), Socks and a pair of Under Wear. In the same day he had a visit from his relative which is a dentist, he extracted his tooth, we paid the dentist service in the same day after he negotiated the cost with the Consul. His relative dentist had prescribed medicine. The embassy driver purchased it from a pharmacy near to the embassy in the same day and submitted it to him in the same day also.

Please find the receipts of all the expenses spent in that day for his dental treatment.
